WOOL MENS' RESOLUTIONS

Adopted After Some Debate at Yesterday Afternoon's Session.

The following resolutions were adopted by the National Wool Growers' association yesterday afternoon:

The National Wool Growers' association, in its forty-sixth annual convention assembled at Ogden, Utah, for the purpose of considering matters of vital importance to our industry, viz., the use of the national forest and the public lands as they pertain to the live stock industry, the extermination of predatory animals, tariff legislation, railroad transportation of live stock, rates and service in the shipment of sheep and wool, the National Wool Warehouse and Storage company, and other matters pertaining to the sheep industry, submit the following as an expression of our views and wishes pertaining to these matters:

Railroad Rates and Transportation.
Because of the serious losses sustained by those engaged in the live-stock industry in the transportation of stock to market due to the slow movement of railway trains and long and unnecessary delays, which we attribute to the tonnage system now in vogue, which fact we have repeatedly called to the attention of the railroad officials without obtaining complete relief, and inasmuch as this condition obtains on practically every railroad system in the United States, we deem it a proper subject for consideration

We've discovered that we're a trifle overstocked with suits and overcoats—that we're very liable to have some on hand at the end of the season—but—

To prevent this business catastrophe—we have decided to clear out the surplus at GENUINELY cut prices—these:

Six to seven hundred suits—of Dame Fashion's style—we are now closing out at—

Do we have to say, "come early!" If you're wise you will.

by the National Wool Growers' association.

We recommend that this association send a committee to Washington which shall endeavor to have a speed minimum clause added to the present federal law (known as the "thirty-six-hour" limit), which governs the shipment of livestock and provides for their humane treatment.

We heartily commend the efforts of the American Humane association in behalf of legislation along these lines and take this opportunity to express our appreciation of Dr. Wm. O. Stillman, its worthy president, for his untiring efforts to secure the enactment of humane legislation.

We recommend that our committee be instructed to co-operate with the American Humane association in securing the enactment of the "16-mile speed limit" legislation recommended by the association.

We further recommend that this committee should also appear before the Interstate Commerce commission for the purpose of obtaining an equitable reduction of the minimum rate on carload lots of sheep and particularly lambs, and also bringing before that commission the fact that the present freight rates on wool are excessive and wholly out of proportion with the rates on other commodities in carload lots.

Tariff.
Our industry having received the recognition due its importance in the protection afforded it by the recently enacted Payne-Aldrich law, and fully realizing that nothing so quickly demoralizes sheep husbandry as tariff tinkering, we therefore strongly oppose any attempt by any one whomsoever to amend schedule "K." We express our appreciation to all members of the United States senate and congress who so earnestly worked for the legislation so necessary to make wool growing with profit possible to the flockmasters of this nation. And especially do we commend Hon. Theodore Justice for his valuable assistance in bringing about this condition.

We recommend that the National Wool Growers' association employ every means within its power to encourage the future development of the wool industry in the United States. Production should be fostered in all sections of the country and the industry nationalized.

Nothing would do more to encourage the industry on range and farm than to impart a feeling of confidence and certainty in our ability to protect ourselves against unwise legislation and adverse conditions.

The United States is the greatest wool using market of the world, and it is therefore the duty of the National Wool Growers' association to exert every possible effort to supply the ever increasing demand of our country's consumption of this staple product.

Forest Reserves.

Being at all times in full accord with any policies having for their purpose the conservation and development of our natural resources we are desirous of according to the promotion of such policies our hearty co-operation, realizing that future generations, as well as we of the present, will enjoy the fruits resulting therefrom.

Therefore we take this position that the government authorities in promoting their policy of the conservation of the natural resources of the country cannot accomplish greater results in any way more satisfactory to the people than by inviting the co-operation of those concerned. The regulations of the forestry service which our experience has taught us are established more on theory than on knowledge have worked untold hardships and annoyance to our industry, and have been productive of severe but just criticism of the forest service administration. This has been brought about by the enforcement of regulations unsuitable to the proper and profitable conduct of the business, and we think the mistakes of the past can be avoided if men of experience in handling sheep on the range are brought into conference with the forestry service. Therefore, we insist upon equal consideration with the forestry officials in the formulation of the rules and regulations that shall obtain in the management of forest reserves.

We condemn the practice of the forestry service in imposing burdensome fines without giving the party fined a trial before a court of competent jurisdiction. The principle is un-American and tyrannical. This practice makes the supervisor the party injured the judge and the jury.

Certain lands in the national forest that are unsuitable for cattle grazing are closed to the grazing of sheep. Such a policy is a detriment to the sheep industry and of no benefit to the cattle owners and a considerable loss to the government in grazing fees. We demand that such lands in forest reserves as are not required for cattle and horses be thrown open for the grazing of sheep in order that the number of livestock may be increased and the situation very much relieved, with reference to the increasing shortage of meat products.

We recommend that the secretary of agriculture have an investigation made by experienced men that the thousands of dollars worth of summer feed now going to waste on the forest reserves may be made use of by the stockmen of the surrounding country.

We extend Honorable Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture our sincere thanks for his visit to the west during the past year to meet the users of the national forest reserves. This visit has already done much to bring about a better feeling between the forest supervisors and the users of reserves.

We sincerely hope that Secretary Wilson will take a firm hold of the great conservation policies of our natural reserves. For we believe it only needs the application of good common sense along broad business lines to make it all the people hope for—a blessing to this and future generations.

Uniform Bounty.

Realizing that the stockmen of the public land states suffer great loss each year from the depredation of wild animals, and believing that an ample and uniform bounty will ultimately result in the eradication of such animals, and the lack of such bounty will result in even greater loss to the livestock business, be it resolved; That we appeal to the several state legislatures to enact uniform bounty laws and that the executive committee of this association take immediate steps to bring this matter to the attention of the governors and legislative bodies of the several states.

We recommend that a uniform bounty of $2.50 be placed upon coyotes and wolves and that uniform rules and regulations be prescribed for the marking of pelts and scalp.

We recommend the work of the National Forest employes for what they have done towards the destruction of predatory animals. However, in this connection it is but fair to ask that the National Forest bureau bear their proper proportion of the expense in accordance with the area controlled by them.

National Wool Warehouse and Storage Company.

The National Wool Warehouse and Storage company of Chicago inaugurated by this association has accomplished results in the marketing of the wool of its shareholders far beyond the fondest hopes of its promoters and is now firmly established on a sound and impregnable basis, thus proving the great advantage to be accomplished by united effort and co-operation of the members of the association.

We therefore appeal to all members of the National Wool Growers' association to loyally support the warehouse company, being fully convinced that the movement is in the right direction and that the benefits to the wool growers by reason of the existence of this company will continue to increase from year to year.

We extend to Mr. J. E. Cosgriff, president of the National Warehouse company and to President Fred S. Gooding of this association our sincere thanks and appreciation for their untiring efforts during the past twelve months to devise ways and means through the medium of a warehouse company controlled by wool growers for marketing the wool products of the country in the same business-like manner as other staple products are sold.

We heartily commend the efforts of the commercial interests of the City of Omaha, coupled with the financial support of Western wool growers, in the establishing of a wool warehouse in that city, recognizing that the movement inaugurated at that place has been of great advantage to the wool industry of the Western states. We appreciate the efforts of all Western and Missouri river cities to establish independent warehouses where the wool growers can store their wool until such time as it can be satisfactorily marketed.

We believe that the success heretofore attained in the establishment of independent wool warehouses will warrant the building of co-operative warehouses at various Atlantic seaboard cities in the very near future.

Department of Agriculture Com-mended.

We recommend the work of the Department of Agriculture, the Bureau of Animal Industry and the Bureau of Plant Industry in their investigation of poisonous plants and all other valuable work for the benefit of the live stock industry and the farmers of the country, and we recommend to congress liberal appropriations for the continuance of such work.

Rewards.

The recent action of your executive officers in aiding the prosecution of recent crimes against the lives and property of Wyoming wool growers is strongly commended and we recommend that this association give notice that no expense or effort will be spared in protecting the lives and property of its members.

Thanks.

The thanks of the association are due and are hereby most heartily rendered to the governor of Utah, the Mayor of the city of Ogden, the Weber club, the Elks' club, the officers of the Utah Wool Growers' association and the citizens of Ogden generally for the generous hospitality extended to the attending members of this association and the wives of those accompanying them, and for the numberless courtesies which have contributed to make our stay in Ogden a continuous pleasure; and to the press for its interested and ac-

About Buying a Watch

Don't buy a watch from a catalogue of a mail order house—you will be disappointed if you do. Go to a jeweler; for his own reputation, if nothing else, he will see that the watch you buy has been put in thorough order, properly oiled, regulated, and is running right. Everyone knows that Waltham Watches are as accurate timekeepers as it is possible to make, and yet there are a hundred accidents that may happen to a perfect watch after it leaves our factory. A good watchmaker knows how to remedy such things, and you may be sure he will do it before he takes your money.

What To Do With Holiday Books.

HERE is scarcely a home but what will feel the effects of the annual overflow of books which usually happens about the 25th of December. ¶ Books are sold and distributed in this city during the holiday season by the thousands. ¶ Many of them are rare and expensive publications, with delicate bindings. ¶ Nearly all of them are worth preserving, if not for their intrinsic merit—at least for the sake of association—so we seldom throw books away—we cherish them as friends. For that reason we like to see them well housed. ¶ If they are left exposed on the table more than a day or so, they soon show evidence of soil. ¶ If they are worth protecting at all, let them have the best protection possible—such as is afforded by
